Fool's Paradise

Written by Praying Punisher

This story is about foolish people

You wake up. You eat. You go to work.
You wake up. You eat. You go to work.
You wake up. You eat. You go to work.
You wake up. You eat. You go to work.

The same thing repeats again and again. As if that's how things were meant to be. You believe it and you obey. At age 60, you retired and died from a heart attack.

Let's talk about another one of you. You work as a police officer. You catch criminals and free them in exchange for some money. You don't need to care whether that is right or wrong. You keep going in your way. You believed it and you obeyed.

You did that same thing again and again and again. Eventually you became old and one day you got killed by an unknown person.

You were born in a bad family. You faced harshness from your family. Your family didn't care about you. That's how your childhood went. Now you have become a Mafia. You sell drugs and beat people. You use your childhood as an excuse to justify your crimes.

But you are not invincible. One day, another Mafia came and crushed you into pieces.

4

You were born in a Muslim family. You pray five times a day. You memorized the Quran and Hadith. You became an Islamic scholar and you sell honey. You tell people to do good deeds. But you didn't do it for the sake of Allah. You did it to gain fame and money. On outside you worship Allah but inside you worship people. You are a Hypocrite.

You made lots of money by selling Islam and honey. You became a millionaire. But you couldn't escape death.

5

You are a thief. You started stealing Because your family members are unwell. Your family needs medicine and treatment. But hospital bill is beyond your financial capabilities. Which is why you steal. You steal anything and everything for your family's treatment. But you are unaware of other people who have this same problems. So you keep stealing. You managed to cure your family but at the cost of other people's family.

Are you really a Hero?

6

You are a business person. You have many businesses. You earn a lot of money. You and your family are happy. You lived like this is your perfect life. Expensive food, luxury, expensive cars and many more.

But you are not a Muslim. You believe everything you want to. You are very loyal to whoever you trust. You died because of old age.

7

You are a doctor. You sleep well someday and you don't sleep some day. You keep working day and night. You barely have time to eat food.

But is that really what you asked for?

Tiredness?
No sleep?
No stability?

That lifestyle is outside of Islam.

9

You are a part of the Illuminati. You control politicians. You control media and information. You hide every dark secret. You help Israel. You help America. You gave info to Jeffrey Epstein. You helped many secret people who won't hesitate to murder innocent people.

You are a hero right?

Right?

10

You are a mechanical engineer. You can work with almost any mechanical things. You can make cars, you can make ships, you can make many things that will help many people. But you work for Israel.

You are one of the worst mechanical engineer in the world.

You are a porn addict. You watch porn everyday. But you were once good until you accept bad friends in school. Your health is degenerating. You stare at people in school and you watch porn at home. Sometimes you watch porn with friends, sometimes you watch alone. But you can't deny that you are hurting yourself. Fix yourself.

You are a news reporter.
But you don't show the truth.
You fear the government more than Allah. You spread fake news. You gaslight people. You manipulate people. You don't trust people easily.

But are you trustworthy?

You are a soldier. You are hired to protect your country. But that's what your ID card says. You fight for a tyrant. You fight only to keep that tyrant safe. You didn't protect innocent people.

You are ignorant.

Part 2 of the story may or may not come depending on the situation.

You are a big fool.